

Housing

As recognized by the international human rights law, adequate housing is one of the rights of the people to have an adequate standard of living. One of the human's basic needs – along with food and clothing – housing provides its dwellers privacy and protection from danger. It also enables people to have a better quality of life and well-being, as well as better chances of having sound health as it provides a place to live comfortably to become a productive citizen.

In acknowledging everyone's right to adequate standard of living, the Provincial Government of Cavite made the provision of affordable housing units, with basic utilities and services, to its constituents as one of its thrusts.

The provincial government also supports the national government in providing better homes by accommodating the development of wide-range housing projects that cater to different sectors. It also provides relocation sites to support qualified families that may be affected by demolition undertakings initiated by the local government in the identified danger zones and designated right-of-way.

Housing Subdivisions

In 2015, the Housing and Land Use Regulatory Board (HLURB) issued a total of 62 permits to the province of Cavite.

HLURB is the lead agency in providing technical assistance to the local government units in the preparation of comprehensive land use plans; regulation of housing, land development and homeowners association; and adjudications of disputes related thereto.

A quasi-judicial body, HLURB is also tasked to plan and regulate land use, real estate and housing.

The permits given to the province of Cavite are located in eight (8) municipalities and five (5) cities of the province.

Table 5Q shows that Cavite has a total of 36,972 lots and housing units approved for selling in 2015. These units were distributed into Lots, House and Lots and Lots/Unit as reported by the HLURB. Trece Martires City, with the most number of units at 8,699, was issued six (6) licenses, followed by Tanza with 6,950 units, and General Trias with 5,348 units.

Social Welfare

The Provincial Social Welfare and Development Office's (PSWDO) programs and services are geared towards promoting the rights and welfare of the poor and marginalized people for an improved quality of life.

For the past years, the PSWDO's roles and functions have expanded in accordance with the Local Government Code, which was implemented in 1992. It directed the functions and operations of the office as direct service provider and technical service provider.

As the lead agency in social welfare and development, PSWDO exercises the following functions:

- Develops and enriches existing programs and services for specific groups, such as children and youth, women, family and communities, solo parent, older persons and PWDs;
- Provides technical assistance and capability to intermediaries;
- Provides social protection of the poor, vulnerable and disadvantaged sector, PSWDO also gives augmentation funds to local government units so these could deliver social welfare and development (SWD) services to depressed municipalities and barangays and provides protective services to individuals, families and communities in crisis situations.

Aside from the mandated functions of PSWDO, its regular basic social welfare and development projects include:

Day Care Services

Day Care Services, being provided and manned by highly trained day care workers who are skilled with early childhood education knowledge, is given to children up to 6 years of age whose mother goes to work.
